As a practicing physician, Dr. Cartright has witnessed firsthand the toll that political polarization is taking on our society. He has seen how fear, anger, and division are tearing families apart, eroding trust in our institutions, and making it impossible to address the critical challenges of our time.

In this book, Dr. Cartright argues that our political epidemic is not simply a matter of different opinions. It is a symptom of a deeper problem, a crisis of empathy and understanding.

We have become so focused on our own beliefs that we have lost the ability to see the world through the eyes of others. We have forgotten how to listen to each other, how to compromise, and how to work together for the common good.

Dr. Cartright believes that we can overcome our political epidemic, but it will require a concerted effort from all of us. We need to be willing to listen to each other, to understand each other's perspectives, and to work together to find common ground.

Doctor's Journey Into The Heart Of Our Political Epidemic is a must-read for anyone who is concerned about the future of our country. It is a timely and important book that offers a unique and insightful perspective on the challenges we face today.
