Mary Oliver's Have Dog, Will Travel: A Poet's Journey is a beautifully written and deeply moving memoir about the bond between a woman and her dog. Oliver and her beloved dog, Percy, travel together through the natural world, exploring the mountains, forests, and deserts of America. Along the way, Oliver reflects on the human condition, the nature of love, and the importance of living a life in harmony with the earth.

Oliver's writing is lyrical and evocative, and her observations on nature and life are both insightful and moving. She writes about the joy of being in the wilderness, the beauty of the natural world, and the importance of finding our place in it. She also writes about the challenges of life, the pain of loss, and the power of hope.

Have Dog, Will Travel is a book that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. It is a book that will make you laugh, cry, and think deeply about the world around you. It is a book that will inspire you to live a life of adventure and purpose.
